

3rd annual Temple-wide

Chavurah Shabbat Dinner

Friday, January 30, 2015 at 6:00PM

Dairy/Vegetarian dinner before services for anyone currently in a chavurah group, for anyone interested in learning about a chavurah group AND for anyone wondering what all the fuss is about.

7:30PM Shabbat Service with Rabbi Jeffrey Salkin, recognized as one of the most thoughtful Jewish writers and teachers of his generation -- he has helped people of all ages find spiritual meaning in both the great and small moments in life.

A special dairy Oneg will follow services, and will include an ice cream social. There will be ample opportunity for chavurah groups to be together, and to mingle with other groups, and for those curious about the program to learn more about it.

if there is enough interest, there will be babysitting available for our younger members who find the hour too late to sit in services while awaiting the ice cream!

Please RSVP for dinner and babysitting by sending in this form with your check to the TBA office by Monday January 26th
