

Friday Night Announcements – January 12, 2024

Saturday, January 13 at 9:00am - Conservative Shabbat & Torah Service

Saturday, January 13 at 7:00pm – Movie Mavens presents -Shoelaces

An aging and ailing mechanic reunites with the special-needs son he abandoned as a young boy and from whom he now needs a kidney to survive.

Monday, January 15 at noon – Martin Luther King, Jr. Day Ecumenical Community Service at: Foster Memorial AME Zion Church (90 Wildey Street in Tarrytown)

Come together with congregants, community members, and clergy. Rabbi Holtz will offer the sermon at the service.

Wednesday, January 17 at 7:30pm – Tikkun Olam Committee presents a movie screening and live panel discussion of The Interview: The Dehumanizing Theater of the Parole Process

You will hear how t'shuva (redemption) relates to thousands of New Yorkers currently serving brutally long prison terms because the parole process is designed to punish and resentence, rather than to acknowledge change and transformation.

Friday, January 19 at 5:45pm – Women's Circle – The Ethical Will presented by Judi Markowitz
The Ethical Will is a Jewish practice described in Genesis. Today, it is a powerful way to share life lessons, values, and advice with future generations. Join to learn about the Ethical Will and to try your hand at drafting one for your family.

Friday, January 19 at 7:30pm – Shabbat Service & Installation of Cantor Lauren Fogelman
Don't miss this special evening when we will install our new Cantor. The evening will feature our professional quartet, volunteer choir, guest clergy, and accompanists Katia and Dror.

Friday, January 26 at 10:00am – Books & More Discussion: The Heaven & Earth Grocery Store Novel by James McBride. In 1972, workers were digging the foundation for a new development and found a skeleton at the bottom of the well. Who it was and how it got there were long-held secrets of the residents of Chicken Hill, Pennsylvania, a dilapidated neighborhood of Jews and African Americans who lived there and shared ambitions and sorrows.