From Rabbi Holtz's Study

Dear Friends,

There is a beautiful reading in Pirkei Avot (Ethics of Our Fathers) which begins, "these are the deeds that yield immediate fruit and continue to yield fruit in the time to come." In plain English, it means that if an individual makes these actions a regular part of their lives, they will gain both a reward in this life and these actions will serve as a ticket to heaven. Among others, the list includes:

Honoring parents

Doing deeds of loving-kindness

Attending the house of study morning and evening

Providing hospitality for guests

Visiting the sick

Attending the dead

Making peace between one person and another

Making peace between husband and wife

I cannot make any promises about heaven, though I firmly hope to see you there. I can however say with great certainty that when you and I and other members of our community do the mitzvot on the list above, we tangibly make our corner of this world a better place. Remarkably, most of them require very little time or effort. All you really need is the mindset that they are important to do, and the willingness to actively make any of them a part of your life.

Right now, I want to focus on just one – the mitzvah of "attending the dead." Whenever a member of the congregation suffers a loss in their family, we send out a notice via email. It includes information about the funeral and the burial, and details about when and where the family is sitting shiva. I know that many of you stop reading at the very top if you don't personally know the affected family. But that is a mistake.

The obligation to comfort mourners is not limited to those we know. We all have a connection to one another through our membership in the same community. Simply by being a member of TBA you become part of a large extended family. In difficult times family members do things for one another, even for the distant cousins you barely recognize.

The Shpiel's the Thing

Purim is coming, which means it's time to put on a show! This year's Purim shpiel at Temple Beth Abraham will be

"JeWISH." Songs will be borrowed from Disney's newest animated film, Wish, as well as other popular pieces of wishing (and hoping, and thinking, and praying. (Get the reference?) We'll see beyond the Stars of David in this rollicking revue of songs from all different genres ranging from pop to folk to musical theater.

The tradition of performing a Purim shpiel can be traced back to at least the 15th century. The word "shpiel," which comes from the Yiddish word for "game" or "play", began as a series of silly monologues based on rhymed summaries of Megillat Esther or other sorts of funny sermons. Its purpose was twofold: to entertain and to teach people about the story of Purim. The overarching goal of a Purim shpiel is to use self-effacing Jewish humor to appeal to audiences of all ages.

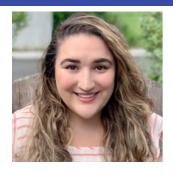

Purim is a holiday that naturally lends itself to disguised merriment. The Megillah features many characters whose identity, natures, or intents are hidden: Esther hides her Jewish identity and later tricks the king into saving her people; and Haman hatches a secret plan to annihilate the Jews. It has all of the elements of primetime drama, with a healthy dose of comedy thrown in.

One of the major customs of Purim is to enjoy a festive meal (in Hebrew, "seudah") in celebration of the holiday. In the 16th century, the Purim shpiel found its way into private homes and served as a way of entertaining guests between courses. Both amateur and professional actors were used. Oftentimes, Yeshiva students were recruited to join in the fun. These events were also used as fundraisers – a tradition which continues to this very day.

The earliest Purim shpiels did not necessarily relate directly to the Purim story. Instead, they often served as a commentary on Jewish life at the time. In the late 17th century, Biblical themes were incorporated into these skits. Sometimes they would relate directly to Purim – the Achashverosh Shpiel was a popular shpiel that reenacted the Book of Esther. Other popular themes included David and Goliath, the Sacrifice of Isaac, and Joseph and his brothers.

Some of these Biblical shpiels had a tendency towards profanity or satire. Hamburg banned performances of Purim Shpiels in 1728 because of vulgarity, and a printed copy of an Achashverosh Shpiel was burned in Frankfurt around the same time. Despite the controversy, a trend towards performing the Purim shpiel in a public place became more popular around this time, evolving into longer dramas with musical accompaniment and larger casts.

STESSA PEERS DIRECTOR OF EDUCATION AND YOUTH ENGAGEMENT

Double Adar is a treat that I look forward to every two...or three years. You see, our Lunisolar Jewish Calendar means our months align with the moon and the years align with the sun. We have thirteen months, depending on the year, and have lots of rules for when things must happen. A leap year occurs seven times in the 19-year Metonic cycle, in years 3, 6, 8, 11, 14, 17, and 19 of the cycle. This means that a leap month is added every 2 to 3 years. And the extra month we get is Adar I and "regular Adar" becomes Adar II.

You may be wondering, why would Stessa LOVE two months of Adar? It's not like we get an extra Purim! It is because, according to the Talmud, מָשֶׁנְּכְנַס אֲדָר מֵרַבִּין בְּשִׂמְחָה, Mishenichnas Adar marbin b'simchah, "When Adar enters, we increase joy" (B. Ta'anit 29a). And, if you know anything about me, Jewish joy is kind of my favorite thing! We get a whole extra month to be joyfully Jewish, and to bring as much joy as we possibly can to the world and to our lives.

This year, there is a lot of Jewish joy to go around. We began Adar I with PuppetWorks coming to TBA and sharing Jewish storytelling with our kindergarteners through 6th graders. Storytelling is so important to Judaism and viewing storytelling (through puppeteering) was an amazing way to start Adar with lots of Jewish joy. This program was made possible thanks to The Fran Friedman Fund for the Enrichment of Children. Thank you to The Fund for allowing our children and families to experience Jewish storytelling, and Jewish joy, in new (to us!) and exciting ways!

We also will be bringing joy to our community through our annual Mishloach Manot fundraiser! As I mentioned in last month's bulletin, Mishloach Manot (Purim baskets) are gifts of food or drink that are sent to family, friends and others on Purim. Sending Mishloch Manot is a mitzvah that is commanded of us! This mitzvah ensures that everyone has enough food for Purim, and to increase love and friendship among Jews and their neighbors. What makes the mitzvah? Well, there needs to be at least two items (food or drink) that are ready to eat or drink. So while a bottle of iced tea, an orange, and tea crackers would fulfill the mitzvah;

In this spirit I urge you to visit anyone in mourning, whether to help make a minyan or simply to offer words of comfort. If you have suffered a loss, you know how much comfort the presence of others can bring. If you have not yet been a mourner, your turn too will eventually come, and you will undoubtedly want and need the consolation of your community. Though at first it can feel odd walking into the home of someone you don't know, you should do it anyway. The door of a house of mourning is purposefully left open so that anyone can enter, without ringing the bell and standing nervously on the porch. And, once you introduce yourself as a TBA member, you are no longer strangers; you are members of our caring community. You automatically have something in common.

Some wonder what they might possibly say to someone they barely know. You don't need to make small talk; in fact, tradition says that your very presence is a comfort. You can simply express your condolences and ask the mourner to tell you about their loved one. Retelling those stories is a central part of the grieving process, and giving a mourner the chance to tell someone new about their loved one is a true mitzvah.

Finally, for those interested in taking the next step, we are seeking folks who would be willing, on occasion, to lead a brief shiva minyan in the home of a mourner. There are times when Cantor Lauren and I have too many conflicting obligations to be everywhere, and congregants step in. These folks are often referred to as minyanaires. It requires only a modicum of Hebrew, and we will be able to quickly show you how to do this. If you are interested in learning more about it (no obligation!), please be in touch. It will make a difference in someone's life.

The next time you receive one of our life-cycle notices, please read all the way through, and do your best to overcome your hesitation and pay a shiva call. I can't guarantee it will get you into the World to Come, but I can promise that it will do a world of good right here.

L'shalom, Rabbi David Holtz

Darius Milhaud's 1925 opera, Esther de Carpentras, offers a glimpse into a late 18th century Purim celebration in the Comtat Venaissin region of France. In the opera, the Jewish leaders of Carpentras seek the permission of the Catholic Cardinal to hold a Purim shpiel. He consents, secretly planning to force the conversion of all the town's Jews while they are gathered together. In a clever plot twist, the young girl playing Esther (whose real name, Hadassa, was the Biblical Esther's birth name), mistakenly gives her plea for Ahasuerus to save the Jews to the Cardinal himself. The Cardinal is touched by Esther's beauty and religious faith and gives the Jews the right to stay in Carpentras.

The burgeoning popularity of the Purim shpiel in Europe gave way to the development and popularity of Yiddish theater – a form of entertainment that could be enjoyed all year round.

Here at TBA, get ready to soar beyond your wildest dreams in this unforgettable evening of music, magic, and merriment on March 23!

a bag of tea and a box of cake mix, would not. To help fulfill the mitzvah, I hope you will consider participating in this annual fundraiser, which also helps in another way, by making Jewish education accessible. This fundraiser benefits our Religious School through the Harry and Kate Pincus Fund. Throughout the years, the Pincus Fund has helped countless Jewish children receive a Jewish education. Please read last month's bulletin article, which includes more information about this fundraiser, as well as the 3rd grade mitzvah project (where they help deliver Mishloach Manot).

After our Purim service and shpiel, we will round out the Adar fun with our annual Youth Group fundraiser: Purim Circus! Please join us on Sunday, March 24th, after Religious School, for a show from the Westchester Circus Arts Troupe that is sure to dazzle and amaze children of ALL ages! Our Purim Circus is our annual Youth Programming fundraiser and allows us to provide programming opportunities for our youth groups. At the Purim Circus event, there will be a light brunch, concessions, carnival games, a circus performance, and an interactive skill set portion. We will end with a Purim costume parade, so don't forget to come dressed up in your best Purim gear!

Temple Beth Abraham Presents: SCHOLAR-IN-RESIDENCE WEEKEND

The Intersection of Science and Religion

With Rabbi Geoffrey A. Mitelman March 15-17, 2024

The Scholar-in-Residence Weekend Is designed to bring an outstanding contemporary Jewish thinker to our community In a way that will allow us not only to hear an Inspiring speaker, but to also interact, to question, and to learn about Judaism in ways that will enrich us all.

Friday, March 15:

Has Science Replaced God?

For centuries, religion provided answers for our ancestors to all of life's questions. But as modern Jews, we usually look to science to tell us where we came from, who we are, or even how we should act. So how should we look at, think about, and talk about the relationship between science and religion in today's world?

The Jewish Cardinal

(Le métis de Dieu)

The amazing true story of Jean-Marie Lustiger, the son of Polish-Jewish immigrants to France, who maintained his cultural identity as a Jew even after converting to Catholicism at a young age, and later joining the priesthood. Quickly rising within the ranks of the Church, Lustiger was appointed Archbishop of Paris by Pope John Paul II, and found a new platform to celebrate his dual identity as a Catholic Jew, earning him friends and enemies from both groups. When Carmelite nuns start building a convent within the cursed walls of Auschwitz, Lustiger finds himself a mediator between the two communities - and may be forced at last to choose his side.

LEAVES FOR LIFE CYCLE EVENTS ON OUR TREE OF LIFE

Our synagogue is proud to possess the Etz Chaim, our Tree of Life. This original sculpture by the noted synagogue artist, Sanford Werfel, is permanently displayed in the Temple Beth Abraham lobby. The branches of the tree contain leaves that may be inscribed to highlight or commemorate such joyous events as births, weddings, anniversaries, b-mitzvot, graduations or simply to honor parents, family, or friends. Share your happy occasions by inscribing your family simchas on our synagogue's Tree of Life as a permanent dedication to the meaningful and happy events that touch the lives of our community. Please note that the creation of a leaf may take up to 8 weeks.

The price per leaf is $360.00 for members and $450.00 for non-members. For more information, please call the Temple office at (914) 631-1770

PLEASE PRINT THE INSCRIPTION EXACTLY AS YOU WISH IT TO APPEAR Maximum of 5 lines of text (24 characters per line, including spaces)
