From Rabbi Holtz's Study

Dear Friends,

Thanks to the uniqueness of the Luni-Solar calendar (see my article from February, 2024), keeping our originally agriculture holidays at the correct time of year requires complex adjustments involving the periodic insertion of leap months. The cycle, known as the Metonic Cycle, is actually nineteen years long, and over that period the years 3, 6, 8, 11, 14, 17, and 19 are the leap years. (To figure out where we are in the cycle, divide the current Hebrew year by 19. The remainder is the current year of the cycle. A remainder of 0 means it's year 19). The year 5784 divided by 19 = 304, remainder of 8. We're just finishing year 8 - a leap year - in the cycle.

What this means for all of us on a practical level is that rather than falling in August when we're generally not paying attention, as it does for twelve years of the cycle, this year the month of Elul falls in September. It gives us a nice block of time to truly do personal preparation of the High Holydays.

It's the obligation of all those leading services - clergy, lay-leaders, choir, accompanist, Torah readers and more - to put in the time needed in advance to make the Holyday services as beautiful and accessible as possible. AND it's your job to take advantage of what we're offering, and, more to the point, to do the personal work needed so that you arrive even more prepared to find meaning and spirituality in the experience.

So, in addition to your own introspection, this year we offer three different classes to aid you in Preparing for the Days of Awe. Dates and times appear elsewhere in this bulletin. Rabbi Pam Wax will be teaching the poetry of forgiveness and repentance. Cantor Lauren will be sharing different musical settings of Hashiveinu, the prayer of repentance and return, and explaining how these settings change our relationship to the prayer itself. I am sharing a variety of ideas for hacking the Holydays - making the time you spend in synagogue more meaningful.

JEWISH MOMENTS FROM THE 2024 PARIS OLYMPICS

Most people watching the Olympics notice the impressive feats of strength, speed, and agility. When I watch, I pay particular attention to the musical choices made by gymnasts, figure skaters, artistic swimmers, and others - especially when they serve to reflect the athletes' cultural heritage and identity.

The Paris Olympics were no exception. Although we are in the midst of challenging times for the Jewish community, these particular games marked many successes for Jewish and Israeli athletes - including the highest medal total ever achieved by Team Israel. Israel brought home one gold, five silver, and one bronze medal from the Paris Olympics, far surpassing their four-medal haul from Tokyo in 2021. In fact, up until last month, Israel had only ever received 13 Olympic medals in total. To bring that number up to twenty and to hear the strains of Hatikvah as windsurfer Tom Reuveny celebrated gold medal in windsurfing was inspiring.

But that wasn't the only moment for Jewish music in Paris. In fact, three routines in three different sports - Rhythmic Gymnastics, Artistic Gymnastics, and Artistic Swimming - featured Jewish folk or liturgical music - and one even garnered a silver medal!

1. While watching the women's qualifying rounds of gymnastics, I kept hearing strains of "Hava Nagila" and "Fiddler on the Roof." Turns out that it was Israeli gymnast Lihie Raz. While I did not see her routine broadcast on TV, I was able to find it on Facebook (<https://www.facebook.com/amanda.blanchard.315/videos/489489373804982/>). This routine was reminiscent of Aly Raisman's gold medal winning routine to a different arrangement of "Hava Nagilah" in 2012 (<https://youtu.be/XSoHw6pmGN4?si=fcO7jKsEV0Yp41kv>). It represents a significant nod to Raz's Jewish and Israeli heritage and gave her a chance to share her pride with the entire world on a global stage. Raz placed 33rd out of the 75 athletes who competed in the floor event.
2. Israel's Artistic Swimming Duet Team of Ariel Nassee and Shelly Bobritsky dedicated their technical routine to the hostages being held in Gaza. They swam with yellow ribbons in their hair to a mashup of the liturgical "Shalom Aleichem" and the Israeli pop song, "Chai" (an Israeli Eurovision entry made famous by Ofra Haza). You can watch their technical routine here: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=E0y2jvdge-0>. In conjunction with their free routine, which served as an homage to Charlie Chaplin, the duo placed 11 out of 17 teams.
3. Rhythmic Gymnastics involves intricate routines involving props such as balls, hoops, ribbons, and clubs. Israel's Rhythmic Gymnastics Team donned leotards adorned with the evil eye as they danced to "Echad Mi Yodea," a cumulative song that comes at the end of the Passover seder. The chosen arrangement takes the traditional Hebrew words and sets them amidst a techno-musical backdrop - a reminder that ancient liturgy can be reimagined for modern times. This routine helped them attain an impressive silver medal in this event. This particular recording is not from the Olympics. Instead, it comes from the World Cup competition in Sofia, Bulgaria earlier this year: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=gheqUFYtIjA>

STESSA PEERS DIRECTOR OF EDUCATION AND YOUTH ENGAGEMENT

Dear Temple Beth Abraham Families,

One of my favorite things to teach is shehecheyanu moments. Shehecheyanu is the prayer we say to thank G!d for this moment in time. For the first time we have done something in a long time. And soon, we will be able to say shehecheyanu together as we begin our new school year.

I would like us all to think about the ‘Shehecheyanu moments’ that have marked our lives: those special times when we feel compelled to truly thank G!d for bringing us to that specific moment. What made those moments so special? Would marking these moments bring more importance to them? I think that marking something new, or for the first time in a long time, makes it more special. I am acknowledging the moment, I am mindful of it, and I am taking the time to be grateful for it. These moments have become a roadmap, where I am able to see them as such, but I do not always think of just the moment, but the journey that got me there and even, the journey that it has led me to. Thank you, Adonai, for THIS moment in time.

Thank you to G!d for all of these moments, and thank you to every member of Temple Beth Abraham for sharing these moments with me. You have enriched my life and I am filled with intense, immense gratitude.

I am looking forward to hearing all about your Shehecheyanu moments that have gotten you to THIS point in time, those moments that made your summer special. From school, graduations, camp, new madrachim roles, new classes, new friends; I am so excited to hear all about the moments that were meaningful for you this past year. I am also looking forward to marking Shehecheyanu moments this year, at our Junior Congregation Services at Temple Beth Abraham as we mark the beginning of the Jewish New Year and the start of a new school year!

We will be meeting inside this year to pray, sing, and celebrate together with me and our Songleader, Adam Hart. I invite you all to join us as we welcome the new year, 5785, at Children’s Services and honor shared moments of gratitude.

In this new season, and this new school year, I would like to also thank our educators for helping our learners grow in their love of Judaism and find their spiritual home at TBA. To honor and thank an educator, support the Religious School, or to help make Jewish Education accessible for all, the best way is to donate to one of the funds that support our school:

- The Pincus Fund awards scholarships to TBA learners and their families to help with tuition and make Jewish Education accessible to all
- The Religious School Fund helps fund programs and activities in our school
- The Teacher Appreciation Fund gives our school the ability to provide our educators with professional development opportunities
- The Youth Group Fund helps fund youth programming, special programs, and makes sure all of our youth groups are filled with Jewish joy at TBA
- The Fran Friedman Fund for the Enrichment of Children helps fund exciting Jewish educational enrichment programs for children
- The Harriet Verter Jewish Education Fund helps fund exciting Jewish educational programs

And of course, don't forget to join us for Selichot, the official start of the High Holyday season. We'll enjoy a presentation by a remarkable musician and speaker, and then hold the brief Selichot service which reintroduces us to the melodies of the Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur. It's a beautifully moving way to enter the Days of Awe.

Peace and blessings,
Rabbi David Holtz

Here is Israel's complete medal count from the 2024 games:

Gold:

- Tom Reuveny, windsurfing

Silver:

- Sharon Kantor, windsurfing
- Raz Hershko, judo
- Inbar Lanir, judo
- Artem Dolgopyat, floor exercise (In 2021, he won the Gold in Tokyo in the same event, making him Israel's most decorated Olympian)
- Team Rhythmic Gymnastics

Bronze:

- Peter Paltchik, Judo

It's interesting to note that nine of Israel's 20 Olympic medals are now in Judo - given the course of history, it's no wonder that Israeli's have taken up and succeeded in disciplined self defense!

Wishing for continued victories, recognition, and peace for Israel, both in athletics and beyond.

L'Shalom,
Cantor Lauren Phillips Fogelman

Thank you to the entire TBA community for uplifting me, for supporting me, and for giving me so many wonderful shehecheyanu moments of gratitude. HERE'S WHAT'S HAPPENING AT CGC

The Ian and Emily Cohen Children's Garden Center at Temple Beth Abraham is reopening on September 9th and 10th for our "Meet and Greets," and officially on September 11th for our first day of school for ages 18 months to 5 years old. We are so very thankful to all of the wonderful people at TBA who have cheered on this important reopening project with great enthusiasm and grit. I am so thankful to be part of this beautiful community and aspire to many years of collaboration and learning.

Throughout my career, I have often been asked "Why do you continue to do the work that you do in the field of Early Childhood Education?" My response has never changed: "because it is the most important work there is to do!"

I believe children come into this world as capable beings. They teach us those "aha" moments in life which lead to a deeper understanding of the world in which we live. They come into the world with open arms, hands, and minds. They possess voices ready to share and ideas of adventures yet to be explored. I can't think of a better gift than to be able to support a young child's first learning experiences.

Wishing everyone a sweet and happy new year!

CGC's September Dates:

- 9/9 and 9/10: Meet and Greets
- 9/11: First Day of School
- 9/17: Children's Garden Center Back to School Night at 7 pm
- 9/21: CGC will have a table at the Tarrytown & Sleepy Hollow (TaSH) farmer's market at Patriot's Park

Renew our days as before!) During the year, we sing these words each time we return the Torah to the ark. We'll discuss the importance of the text and the various places in which it appears in our liturgy while learning new ways to elevate its meaning through music.

Selichot

Program & Service

September 28

Program at 7:30pm.
 Refreshments, Social Time, at 8:30pm.
 Havdalah and Selichot Service at 9:00pm.

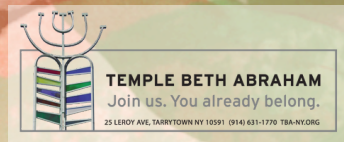

Join us for the official beginning of the High Holyday season!

Dave Schlossberg presents his compelling program Facing the Music, the story of his journey through spinal cord injury. Dave will offer his thoughts on how to reclaim life following deep loss to help us find sources of strength within ourselves.

Dave is an award-winning pianist and composer from Monroe, New Jersey and a lover of Jewish folk music and jazz.

The word selichot means forgiveness, and for 500 years Jews have held a service on the Saturday evening before Rosh Hashanah to start the process of seeking forgiveness. It is a brief, powerful and beautiful ritual, during which we put the Torah scrolls in their white mantles, introduce the musical themes of the Holydays, and prepare ourselves for the season of repentance.

High Holyday ushers needed

Help your TBA community by volunteering to usher for one (or more!) of the High Holyday services.

We ask you to fill a 2-hour shift to help welcome and greet Congregants and Guests and to assure the security and dignity of our services.

HIGH HOLYDAY PARKING INFORMATION

Recently, the Village of Tarrytown has designated parts of Leroy near our location as “No Parking” zones to ensure the safe passage of emergency vehicles into our neighborhood.

For the High Holydays, we will designate additional parking spaces for people with disabilities in the TBA parking lot on a first come, first served basis.

Plan to park on local streets if there are no spaces in the TBA lot.

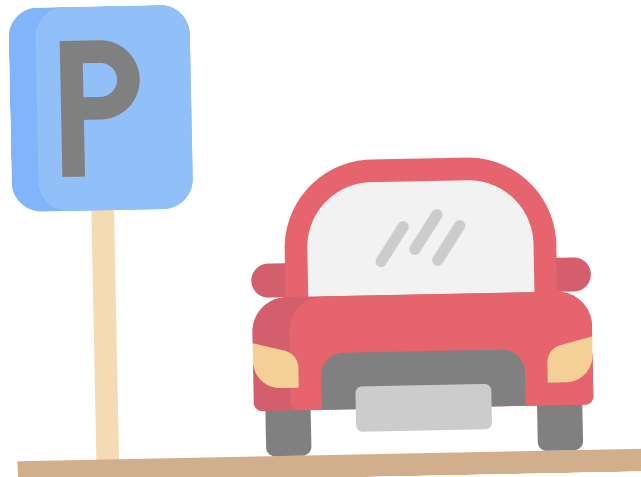

“No Parking” signs will be clearly visible on one side of Leroy and Loh Avenues. Please abide by all parking signs and regulations, and please be a good neighbor and do not block any fire hydrants or driveways.

We have obtained permission to use the parking lot at the Medical Arts building on the corner of Leroy and Broadway on the evening of Wednesday October 2 (Erev Rosh Hashanah), the evening of Friday October 11 (Kol Nidre). Please do not park in this lot at other times, as this interferes with patient and staff parking.

We have also obtained permission from the Church of the Transfiguration to use their parking lot for all High Holyday services (a short walk from TBA at the corner of Prospect and Broadway.)

Please note that there is no parking allowed on South Grove Street (south of Leroy), no parking on Grove Street between Benedict Avenue and the Temple, and no parking on Heritage Hill Road.

Entrance to TBA is available only through the main doors to the building. There is a drop-off area and wheelchair ramp located at the main entrance. Please do not attempt to enter at the old entrance (at the top of the circle) nor from the driveway behind the Temple on Grove Street.

MEET OUR SHINSHINIT

Anita Lebedkin

As of this writing, we just gave a final sendoff (before she leaves for Israel) to Liri Tsurya, who was our shinshinit (Israeli youth emissary) for this past year. We will miss her dearly. She left an indelible mark on our TBA community. Everyone who attended her Bat Mitzvah will remember her, as will the many students here whose lives she touched.

As much as we are saddened by Liri’s departure, we are excited to meet our shinshinit for the coming year, Anita Lebedkin. She will be at TBA on Mondays, and will be hosted by Anna and Jon Weiss, one of our very own TBA families. This is a first for us and we are so excited!

Anita is 18 years old and comes from Ashdod, a city in southern Israel, located right on the Mediterranean Sea. Because she grew up at the water’s edge, Anita started surfing at an early age and even used to compete. She also enjoys skating, going on trips, and spending time with her family. She has been active in two youth organizations where she held leadership positions, helping to guide younger children and teens.

She is very excited to learn about our community and American Judaism. She is looking forward to sharing her point of view on Israel and Judaism, as well as exposing us to her Israeli culture.

As if this was not exciting enough, another shinshinit, Mia Hazan, will be hosted by Jessica Ross’ family! We will be learning a bit about her, as well, in an upcoming bulletin article. Stay tuned!

In the meantime, expect to see both Anita and Mia at services and other TBA events. Be sure to embrace them and welcome them into our community!
